Douglas, Ariz.

JUAREZ, Mexico, September 14.-Persistent rumors are current here that on or before next Monday, the anniversary of Mexican independence, the military element hitherto loyal to the Madero government, principally the forces operating along the American border, will take sides with the rebellion.

Mexican secret service men here today telegraphed President Madero that they feared a counter revolution in the army of the north.

Failure of the federals to pursue actively the rebels east and west of Juarez, which is headquarters of Gen. Victoriano Huerta, commanding the army in the north, seems responsible for the rumors. In this connection it is pointed out that troops were sent into Sonora via the Arizona border only on orders from Mexico City following a demand from Washington that Americans be protected. It is also pointed out that Gen. Rabago with the main body of federal cavalry, remains inactive at Casas Grandes while rebels continue to operate near Ojinaga frequently as a presidential possibility.

Not an Orozco, Says Gen. Huerta. "I am not an Orozco," declared Gen. Huerta tonight, when asked regarding the rumors. Orozco is the leader of the present revolution in northern Mexico He turned against Madero and the constitutional government after receiving a commission as general.

Huerta is in command of all federal lutionists. He vouched for the loyalty of the Mexican army to the government "We will hold a celebration in Juarez on the natal holiday," said Gen. Huerta, "but it will be merely one of patriotism

It also was denied today by Enrique G. Llorente, Mexican consul at El Paso, that had received an appointment by the oposed plotters as governor of the state of Chihuahua.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., September 14 .- Gen Senjines and his column of 800 men with two field pieces and five machine guns, who left Agua Prieta early today presumably to give battle to the rebels, returned to Agua Prieta before sundown Trey went as far as Cenisas Springs, twelve miles southeast, which the rebels had evacuated twenty-four hours before Ismael Padilla, the secretary of state of Sonora, as one of Gen. Sanjines' advisers, said after the return of the troops that he was satisfied the rebels had left this part of Sonora, and that they would soon return to Chihuahua.

Edward Haymore, an American mer chant of Colonia Morelos, who was reported last night to have been murdered rebels, was brought here late today Sheriff Wheeler, who made a trip i an automobile across the line in search him. Haymore had been taken risoner by Rojas and been without food for two days when found. Presley Jones and James Anderson o Colonia Morelos, who were prisoners of Salazar for five days, arrived here to-El Tigre, and it was thought that Rojas and Salazar would join forces there.

His men had traced them back to "Vivas" for their exiled ruler. Mounted police were ready to disperse the mob and the entrances to the chamber where the deputies were in executive session were heavily guarded. Differs Only in Details.

The situation is almost identical with that immediately preceding the fall of Diaz, with the exception that shifts have been made in the cast of characters. The disorders today had as a basis the same discussion-the seating of doubtful members of the chamber-as yesterday when the galleries hissed Madero and shouted The crop was good and the money harthe praises of Diaz. They were precipitated by the rejection of Francisco Pasquel Garcia, leader of the Catholic wing, whose election was unquestioned. PLANS OF BIG PACT LOVE FOR WOMAN

Organization and Purpose of $30,000,000 Company.

Seeks Control of District Gas, Railways and Electric Corporations.

ISSUE OF $5,000,000 OF STOCK

Universal Transfers Among Street Car Companies Assured-Reduction of Running Expenses.

Details of the organization and purposes of the big thirty-million-dollar Maryland-Virginia Company, made public last night through an interview with William B. Hibbs at his summer home in Leesburg, Va., shows that the founders of the corporation have the one definite object in mind of getting actual control of every public utility n the District of Columbia, especially street railroads. This contemplates the management under one executive head of the street railways and of gas and electric companies; the establishment of universal transfers and the saving which would come from the combining of several managing de- favor. Yet they convicted him.

partments into one. The Maryland - Virginia Company through its members and their friends, s declared to have a controlling interest in the Washington Railway and Electric Company and its affiliated companies; the Potomac Electric Power Company and the Washington-Virginia I would go back, but when I heard there Company, whose cars operate into Vir-ginia across the Highway bridge. The consolidation of these companies, it is declared, could therefore be accomplished at any time. Ownership of stock in the Capital Traction Company and the Washington Gas Light Company by members in the big corporation does not at present amount to a control of those concerns, but it is claimed that actual ownership and control of stock in practically all other utilities puts the new corporation in command. Five million dollars' worth of the new corporation's stock is already issued. It also holds much dends from that ownership to create a surplus fund for extensions.

Charter Obtained in Richmond.

The Maryland-Virginia Company was granted a charter with "dummy" incorporators two years ago in Richmond. Va., under the laws of Virginia, and originally was capitalized at $5,000,000. by the presence of Chief Jenney on the This amount was later increased to front platform. The fugitive fought his $30,000,000. The actual amount of stock way through the crowd, and as he reachwhich has been issued and sold amounts ed the door dived toward the street. to about $5,000,000. The present temporary organization has Norman Gray of Canton, N. J., president of a trust company there, as president; F. H. Treat, president of the president; W. W. Spaid, partner of W. B. Hibbs, as treasurer, and Gardner wards said that during the afternoon he Booth, attorney, of Alexandria, Va., secretary. Mr. Booth drew up the papers of rest. He was asked why he made no atincorporation. In talking of the operation of local street railroads under the control or ownership of one corporation, William R Hibbs said last night that the new organization intended to meet the de mand for universal transfers, and in the present state of ownership this would seem to be an easy matter. While the Maryland-Virginia corporation does not own a controlling interest in the ested in the new company profess that fere with their plans. They are confident that a cheaper and more efficient organization will be effected through one control and one operation of the companies taken into that merger. Scope of Company's Powers.

The Virginia charter under which the Maryland-Virginia Corporation exists is a broad one, allowing the company to buy, sell and own stocks, to control and operate street railways, railroads, electric light companies, gaslight companies, and to own real estate; in short, to have the widest possible field for the operation and control of a large system of utilities. Par value of the stock in the corporation s $100. It is not listed, and no trading in the stock on any market has been recorded, those interested say, as all the shares asked for have not been allotted. It is rest there as a witness in the Rosenthal planned to exchange shares of the new stock for shares of the stocks of the existing corporations to be taken into the new fold, on a valuation plan to be worked out. A financial firm of Paris, France, leave." he said, when he was apprised has made an offer to underwrite the Maryland-Virginia Corporation, and to take up all shares from present owners in local railways and utilities who may not want to enter the new company or the exchange of stock plan. To own the public utilities of the District of Columbia and to operate them with one executive head and one operat ing department is the aim of the corporation, not merely to own a controlling stock interest. The organizers of the corporation have a definite objective point, namely, to make the big savings which will be possible when all the lines are in tinue directly to Hot Springs. He said one name and the expenses of several different managements are reduced to one,

large department.

Opportunity to Other Concerns. The backers of the new company admi dispatch from Constantinople says that the Washington Gas Light Company and the town of Rodosto, in the vilayet of the Capital Traction Company are still outside of the fold. No effort will be made to gain control of them, it is understood, but an opportunity has been extended and is still open for them to get into the new concern. Public service corporations in the District of Columbia now represent about $80,000,000 in various securities, and are all susceptible of absorption into the large concern. The entire scope of the the Maryland-Virginia Corporation, its organizers say, has been discussed with the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, with Senator Gallinger, chairman of the Senate District committee, and with various Moines and they left Thursday for that members of the House committee on the District of Columbia, with a view to bringing to light any flaws in the plan or any weak points which could be made the subject of attack later. The present active members of the corporation declare that it will make little difference whether or not the present bill for the creation of a public utilities commission is passed. They say the universal transfer is the ultimate object of the new corporation.
